

End Forest Mining

Community Campaign Coordinator

Join the WA Forest Alliance (WAFA) team as the End Forest Mining Community Campaign Coordinator.

WAFA was established in 1990 to provide an umbrella organisation for the many groups working to protect WA's native forests across Noongar boodja. We are a small but highly effective team of passionate, hard-working and dynamic people who care deeply about the protection of native forests.

POSITION OVERVIEW

End Forest Mining (EFM) is an alliance of groups, all working together for a shared purpose: to end bauxite mining in WA's Northern Jarrah Forest. Our vision is for the State's magnificent remaining jarrah forests to be safe from mining, and protected forever. The EFM campaign is managed by a Steering Committee of WAFA as well as Conservation Council of WA (CCWA) and the Wilderness Society WA (TWS).

The EFM Community Campaign Coordinator will assist with alliance coordination and serve as the primary point of contact for EFM alliance members and external stakeholders engaging with the EFM campaign, in order to build a bigger and more diverse movement for protecting WA's native forests from mining.

More information on WA Forest Alliance and the End Forest Mining campaign is available at wafa.org.au and endforestmining.org.au

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Work collaboratively with the WAFA team and Steering Committee to lead on delivery and implementation of community campaign tactics, adapting when priorities shift.
- Coordinate meetings and other internal communications between the Steering Committee, as well as external communications to alliance members and other stakeholders, serving as a first point of contact.
- Oversee campaign actions, events and stalls in the Perth metropolitan, Darling Range and broader Southwest, ensuring that they are strategic, engaging and meaningful for supporters and volunteers and grow wider community support for the campaign.
- Engage with existing and new volunteers to provide support for the campaign, and equip them with resources, training and support, provide meaningful tasks and oversee their activities.
- Maintain insight into campaign activities across the alliance to identify gaps, overlaps, and opportunities, plus help coordinate timing and consistent messaging.
- Report regularly to the Steering Committee on campaign status and coordination.
- Facilitate shared decision-making processes within agreed parameters.
